May Day Speakers Hope Pact Will Be Signed Next Week

Vienna, May 1. As the moment for the opening here of the Ambassadors' conference to prepare for the signing of a state treaty for Austria comes nearer, the optimism of the Austrians grows greater.

Austrian May Day speakers today expressed the hope that the preparatory work for the treaty would be over in a week at most and that everything would be ready for the signature of the treaty by May 12 to 15—the time most convenient for the Western Foreign Ministers to come to Vienna to sign.

The Russians were said to be most optimistic of all. They have told Allied officials here that they think the whole work of the preparatory conference should be over in three days. The matter rests largely with them and the work can be done very quickly if they raise no objections. This was taken by the Austrians to be a good sign.

CHINESE ARE FLATTERED BY THE MARGIN THEIR VICTORY

By I. "M. MacTAVISH

The final score in this floodlight match at the Club Stadium yesterday is as misleading as some of the incidents that happened in it are inexplicable. In the end the Chinese were clear winners but for 68 minutes it was a grand game with both sides striving desperately to establish a definite superiority.

Generally the Chinese were the more polished players but in this encounter they found themselves confronted with as willing a set of opponents as they have come up against in a long time. Every-man-jack in the Non-Chinese played himself to a standstill and that is true of those who maybe did not quite measure up to the standard of some of their colleagues.

From the kick-off this was a l dresh and fair game. The ball' advantage the Chinese boys the centre. Lau Tim and was swung about with skill and could not establish full control O'Kelly went up for it together precision and the big crowd was treated to some really good

Ho May-yee Again Equals Colony Record

By "RECORDER"

Though records fell right and left-in fact there were 12 in all-performances at the South China Athletic Association's 10th Annual Invitational Inter-School Athletic Meeting which concluded at Caroline Hill yesterday were, on the whole, below the standard of previous years.

But Tak Ming Middle School's Ho May-yee laid claim once more to the title of being the Colony's fastest ever feminine human as she equalled the Colony record of 13.0 seconds for the 100 Metres Dash she holds jointly with Capt. P. Garrard, WRAC. This was accomplished in a semi-final and the final, as at the Colony Championships, was won in a slow 13.4 seconds.

So far, there is only major issue of immediate portance which has arisen from Communist activity in the International Labour Organisation. The presence of the Communists has provoked a full scale controversy over the position in the Organisation of private employers and representatives of State-run industry. Representatives of private industry, who have hitherto held They want almost undisputed sway in the employers' group, declare that the Communists are merely appendages of their Govern-

Nationalised industry was comparatively rare thing when the Organisation was founded 1919. Totally socialised economies, with the notable exception of that of the Soviet. Union, were even rarer.

The clash between representatives of private and State-run industry actually began when the Soviet Union sent an official of the People's Water Transport Commissariat as employer delegate to a conference in 1936. The Organisation's secretariat was asked to study the matter.

The secretariat found nothing nominating an employer gate for nationalised No provision of the Organisation's constitution required employer delegates to be private individuals.

The late Sir Harold Butler British Director of the "Inter-Labour Organisation in_1937, pointed out that there at least eight different of employers, including those who worked for their own profit, for company shareholders or for the State. The conference in plenary session upheld the credentials of the Communist employers by 105 votes to 79, with 28 abstentions. The Communists were also awarded seats as non-voting deputy members in the technical committees.

The American Director General of the International Labour Organization, Mr David Morse, said in his closing ad-dress that the poot of the trouble did not seem to lie in any structural weakness of the or-gardsetion. ## ANZAC DAY IS OBSERVED

War Labour Party Continues

FROM H. KING WOOD

Sydney, Apr. 27. Anzac Day loses nothing with the passing of years, except that the ranks of the World War I veterans thin out.

This year it was estimated that half a million people lined the Sydney streets to watch the shortened procession—shortened as a concession to the older men. For the first time since the last war, the younger men outnumbered the veterans marching.

The dawn ceremony is one that becomes stronger with the years-12,000 this year being turned a lever and 10 seconds present at the Cenolaph. And as a tribute to our 10 | Snowy rushing through, two o'clock closing, police report the huge, quietest Anzac Night for many began driving the generators

Rain-Making Experiment On Peak

The Royal Observatory and Public Works Department continued their rainmaking expelments this morning. First "seeding" of the clouds with water sprays was made last night An Observatory official said this morning that no results were as yet discernible, but that was accounted for by the fact that the proper depth of cloud had not yet passed over the Colony. The ideal type of cloud for the experiments was about 5,000 in depth; so far most of the cloud passing over the Peak had been about 2,000
